

one world, one climate!

1 We need to limit climate change in a way that ensures the survival of the most endangered countries, such as islands and coastal states.

2 We need to distribute the efforts and expenses required for the poorest countries' adaptation to climate change fairly.

3 We need to help poor countries benefit from new opportunities that arise from an increased level of climate protection.

Supported by:
BMZ
Germanwatch is responsible for the content.